Leadership Academy 2007
Friday 31st August- Sunday 2nd September
Gartmore House, Aberfoyle, near Stirling

What the 2006 Delegates said on their Academy Experiences...

"I have REALLY valued this weekend very highly and it has challenged my thinking about myself and my perceptions"

"Enjoyed the atmosphere, the tools and getting challenged"

"The best JCI Event I have attended, anywhere, anytime"

"More coffee, please!"

Many JCI members from across the British Isles single out their attendance at this Leadership Academy as the highlight of their membership of JCI. The Academy is running again this year and is open to participants from JCI Scotland, JCI Ireland and JCI UK.

The Academy will challenge you, your perceptions and your personal leadership style, through a variety of individual and group training exercises in a supportive and safe environment. Organised by members, for members we are lucky enough to have secured the services of two of the best trainers in JCI for the weekend, with more still to be announced:

Head Coach: Ian Thomson. Ian is the Founder of the Scottish Leadership Academy and the renowned European Academy. He is also an International Training Fellow of JCI and a Past National President of JCI Scotland. Ian runs his own training company, Leadership International Ltd and was guest trainer on the Russian Leadership Academy in 2005, 2006 and 2007.

Coach: Mel Harris: Mel has organised six Scottish Leadership Academies as well as being Assistant Trainer on the Scottish Leadership Academy in 2005 and the Russian Leadership Academy in 2006. She is a JCI Certified National Trainer. Mel is a Past President of JCI Edinburgh and won the award for being Best President in Europe in 2005. Mel now runs her own training organisation, The Training Tree.

The cost to attend the Leadership Academy, including Training, Food and Accommodation is £195. For more information or to get an application form please visit the 2007 Leadership Academy site at www.jciedinburgh.org.uk/leadership or contact the 2007 Leadership Academy administrators Alastair Davis at alastair_davis@ejcc.org.uk or Lesley Fowler at lesley_fowler@ejcc.org.uk. Funding assistance may be available, please contact your own chamber for more information.

Why not extend your stay in Scotland in the beautiful city of Edinburgh?

Sunday 2nd September sees the finale of the Edinburgh International Festival, the largest and best arts festival in the world. The festival culminates in a massive fireworks display over the city skyline on the Sunday evening.

Members of JCI Edinburgh will be happy to welcome any delegate of the 2007 Leadership Academy to Edinburgh and assist with their travel plans.

Please contact the administrators for more information.
